Communispond, one of the world's leading providers of communications training, announced today they have acquired Booher Consultants, a global communications improvement firm.

"For the past three decades, Booher has been helping customers improve their writing, interpersonal communications, and presentations skills. We're thrilled to have them join us," said Bill Rosenthal, CEO of Communispond.

"We've known Dianna Booher for a long, long time and view this more as a partnership to expand the capabilities and responsiveness of both companies more than a traditional acquisition," added Mr. Rosenthal.

"Communispond's worldwide footprint, unrivaled quality, exceptional service, and the Communispond Digital™ learning platform will enable us to improve quality and service to our existing customers, expand the reach of our courses, and increase the training tools available for our classes. Our customers will start to experience significant improvements across the board almost immediately. I'm thrilled to be partnering with Communispond," said Dianna Booher, President of Booher Consultants.
